Call for Submissions

We want to include your thoughts in the monthly TSSAA Newsletter! Do you have 50-500 words to share on the topic of teaching perseverance as part of educational athletics? We welcome submissions from principals, athletic administrators, coaches and students! Consider sharing your thoughts, essays or even poems for an upcoming issue. Please send submissions in Microsoft Word format to mgillespie@tssaa.org.

TSSAA continues its support of the National SAT/ACT Prep Project through the NFHS and eKnowledge which allows any Tennessee student to receive a 95% discount on SAT or ACT prep courses. This is a community-service, non-profit project and all student fees are reinvested to improve the program and reach more families. The project has more than 45,000 five-star reviews and has already assisted nearly 300,000 families. Learn more at <https://eknowledge.com/TSSAA>.

NFHS Student-Athlete Award of Excellence

The Tennessee Secondary School Athletic Association (TSSAA) together with the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS) has established the NFHS Award of Excellence for Sportsmanship, Ethics & Integrity to honor remarkable student-athletes who have demonstrated exceptional character and sportsmanship in their athletic pursuits. Deserving students will be presented with a certificate from the Chief Executive of the NFHS, Karissa Neihoff, and the Executive Director of the TSSAA, Mark Reeves.

Leadership among both the staff and students within our schools is vitally important and is a significant tool in molding the future of our communities and nation. Leaders who show respect, integrity and good sportsmanship not only influence their peers but demonstrate values that extend beyond athletics. They contribute to a positive school environment and often become role models that inspire younger students to follow the path of good leadership.

Please use the form linked below to share a story about a student-athlete you know who has demonstrated exceptional sportsmanship, integrity, and ethics. If you have any questions about the award or the nomination process, please contact Courtney Brunetz (cbrunetz@tssaa.org).

We look forward to your submissions recognizing your outstanding student-athletes who embody good sportsmanship and ethical behavior and exude a spirit of fairness and respect.

Memphis athletic director honored for distinguished service

TIAAA board member has spent decades dedicated to high school athletes

May 1, 2025

Michelle York had been, in her own words, “truly, the epitome of a tomboy” growing up with a pair of older brothers who offered little to no let-up in those family sports affairs.

Rather than be daunted, York was inspired to compete.

And, compete she did. York played basketball, softball and volleyball as well as competed in track growing in the Memphis area.

Eventually, it led her to a path as a Power Conference collegiate athlete and into a career spent in service of young people through high school sports and administration.

Now the athletics director at St. George’s Independent School in Memphis, York also is a 2024-25 TSSAA Distinguished Service Award for her enduring contributions to high school athletics in Tennessee.

“Wow, I am so undeserving and very shocked and honored,” said York, who arrived at St. George’s a couple years after parts of four years at Nashville’s Lipscomb Academy. “I have really fond memories of competing in basketball, volleyball, softball and track; I tried my hand at pretty much everything they offered.”

As she entered into her senior year as a two-sport standout at Skyview Academy, York had scholarship offers in both basketball and volleyball. The basketball team’s leading score, she had been expected to choose the hardwood; she opted for volleyball in a decision that York recognized both changed her life and charted the path for her to dedicate her career to helping to influence and impact the lives of future generations.

A particular early-college hardship as she departed Mississippi State and ultimately became an Ole Miss graduate helped York gain a patient perspective she has harnessed to her present-day work.

Michelle York

“A couple of key things happened for me, personally,” York said. “I started my career at Mississippi State, played one semester, started as a freshman, then they had coaching change right before I was heading into my freshman year. It just really wasn’t the overall experience I was looking for and I ended up transferring to Ole Miss.”

Pre-NCAA Transfer Portal and pre-athlete empowerment, York wasn’t fully explained the intraconference transfer rules of the SEC. After playing volleyball in the fall of her first-ever college semester, she did not get to a play again for two years because of the SEC’s transfer rule that forced her to sit out for 18 months.

“You could either feel bad for yourself and get down or grow and learn,” she said. “I had the opportunity to sit on the bench and learn from coaches from a coaching perspective, and I think it made me a much better player when I did start competing again.

“It also gave me that passion for wanting to teach. I actually started doing camps during my college career across the United States, traveled many places and conducted camps. (College coach John Blair) gave me the opportunity to go to grad school, work with the team, and I fell in love with coaching and really realized the avenue ... so many of us think it’s about the sport and winning of the game, but I just remember that light-bulb moment of the people God was placing in my life, that I could make an impact.”

York, who helped co-found the Indiana High School Volleyball Coaches Association during a 16-year run at Heritage Christian School in Indianapolis, has been engaged as an active member of the Tennessee Interscholastic Athletics Association since 2022.

She’s found that element very much a passion project.

“My TIAAA involvement, I think a couple of things: I think there’s just been from my earliest memories a desire to pursue excellence and the responsibilities that come with that, and also the importance of impact,” said York, a TIAAA board member. “What impact one life can have on another. I know that was important to me and the impact my coaches had and difference they made and so just the honor and privilege with that.”

It’s why York seeks daily to operate with two quotes guiding her philosophy:

“I think my two life quotes would be: ‘Autograph your work with excellence,’” York said. “And: ‘They don’t care how much you know until they know how much you care.’

“For me, whether that’s with student-athletes as a volleyball coach or with coaches and I’m the athletic director or work with ADs in the TIAAA, if that’s your focus and you want to lead a life of service, I think you look for opportunities like TIAAA or TSSAA or church. It’s just always been important that whatever I do, I want to make sure I do it ultimately for the glory of God and that it makes a difference for people.”

TSSAA proudly salutes Michelle York for her many years of contributions to student athletes in Tennessee.

TSSAA announces formation of student advisory committee

20-member committee of student-athletes will meet for the first time in May

April 23, 2025

The TSSAA is proud to announce the formation of its first ever Student Advisory Committee. The committee is composed of 20 student-athletes from member schools across the state and will meet for the first time in early May of this year.

There are six members from each grand division (East, Middle, West) and one unified pair. The committee members represent 12 TSSAA sanctioned sports, including three unified sports.

The committee will represent student-athletes and the TSSAA, ensuring their perspectives are heard in governance and addressing key issues such as rules, regulations, and special initiatives. Their mission is to advocate for students, enhance sportsmanship, and foster a safe, ethical, and competitive environment both on and off the field.

“We are excited to have a group that will have a recognized voice for the nearly 150,000 student-athletes that participate in TSSAA sanctioned sports,” stated Mark Reeves, TSSAA Executive Director. “Ultimately, the organization’s purpose is to serve student-athletes by providing opportunities that will enable them to become the best version of themselves.”

Discussion to form the committee began upon the retirement of Stephen Bargatze in 2022. Stephen was the coordinator of the Student Services Program, “The Right Team.” This TSSAA program dealt with student leadership development, alcohol, tobacco and drug prevention education, and sportsmanship and citizenship education. Bargatze’s retirement left a vacancy that needed to be filled.

After the addition of two new employees, Lamar Lee and Lexie Crawford, the ability to pursue the establishment of a Student Advisory Committee became more of a reality. Lexie and Lamar were eager to take part in forming the committee and will continue to play a significant role moving forward.

Guidelines for the committee were presented to the Board of Control for approval and schools were informed about the launching of the committee at the beginning of this year.

In addition to the first meeting this May, the committee members will participate in multiple meetings throughout the upcoming school year. The committee members will give input regarding TSSAA rules and regulations and actively participate in TSSAA campaigns (Officials Appreciation, Mental Health, Bullying, Sports Medicine Appreciation, and Drinking & Driving.) They will be charged with promoting a positive image of student participation in interscholastic competition. They will also be given the opportunity to volunteer at state championship events throughout the school year.

The 20 committee members were selected from nearly 200 applications that were received by the TSSAA. All applicants were required to have a 3.0 GPA or higher and be a rising junior or senior. Other criteria include demonstrating leadership within their school, strong character and commitment to sportsmanship and integrity, and two recommendation letters from their Principal, Athletic Director, teacher, or coach.
